PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Richard Hughes
DOCKET NO.: 04-22800.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 14-19-308-025

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (hereinafter PTAB) are Richard Hughes, the appellant, by Attorney Melissa K. Whitley with the law firm of Marino & Associates in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property consists of 3,100 square foot parcel improved with a 112-year old, two-story, frame, multi-family dwelling with two units. The improvement contains 2,210 square feet of living area as well as two baths and a two-car garage.

At hearing, the appellant argued that there was unequal treatment in the assessment process of the improvement as the basis of this appeal.

The appellant's pleadings included data, descriptions, and photographs of three suggested comparables located within a seven-block radius of the subject. These properties are improved with a two-story, masonry, multi-family dwelling with two bathrooms. They range in age from 77 to 90 years and in size from 2,016 to 2,656 square feet of living area. Amenities include a full basement, while two properties also contain a two-car garage. The improvement assessments range from $12.25 to $14.01 per square foot. On the basis of this comparison, the appellant's attorney requested an improvement assessment reduction.

The board of review submitted "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the board's final assessment decision was presented reflecting an improvement assessment of $34,320 or $15.53 per square foot. The board of review also submitted copies of property characteristic printouts for the subject and four suggested comparables. The properties contain a two-story,

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds a  $\underline{no\ change}$  in the assessment of the property as established by the  $\underline{COOK}$  County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

frame, multi-family dwelling with two apartments. They range in age from 90 to 115 years and in size from 2,160 to 2,258 square feet of living area. The properties varied in amenities. The improvement assessments range from $15.43 to $17.77 per square foot. The analysis reflected that the subject and properties #1, #3, and #4 were accorded an average condition, while property #2 was accorded an above average condition without further explanation. In addition, the board submitted copies of its file from the board of review's level appeal.

At hearing, the board of review's representative testified that the properties were located within a four-block radius of the subject. Moreover, he stated that he had no personal knowledge of the distinguishing characteristics between average condition and an above average condition assigned by the assessor's office. As a result of its analysis, the board requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After hearing the testimony and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal.

The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d l (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. The PTAB finds that the appellant has not met this burden and that a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment is not warranted.

In totality, the parties submitted seven equity comparables. The PTAB finds that the board of review's comparables #1, #3, and #4 are most similar to the subject property. These three comparables contain a two-story, frame, multi-family dwelling with two apartments. They range: in age from 90 to 105 years; in size from 2,160 to 2,216 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessments from $15.93 to $17.77 per square foot. In comparison, the subject's improvement assessment stands at $15.53 per square foot of living area, which is below the range established by the comparables. The PTAB found the remaining properties were accorded less weight due to a disparity in improvement exterior construction, age, and/or size.

On the basis of the evidence submitted, the PTAB finds that the evidence has not demonstrated that the subject's improvement is assessed in excess of that which equity dictates. Therefore, the PTAB finds that a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
